Tea Party Mad Libs

Create your own Mad Tea Party by filling in the blanks to complete the story. This is a game for two or more people to play together. One person holds the worksheet and asks the other participants for specific types of words to fill in the blanks. Once all of the blanks are filled, the person recording the answers reads the entire story aloud.

Last week, I was downtown _____ (-ing verb) with _____ (name of a person). We had been wandering up and down the _____ (noun) all afternoon and our _____ (plural noun) were tired. So, we decided to take a break and relax in _____ (place).

When we arrived at _____ (same place), we encountered a/an _____ (adjective) line, all the way out the _____ (noun). We were _____ (adjective), but we decided to stand in line because we could _____ (verb) the _____ (noun) brewing in the _____ (noun).

After waiting for 10 minutes in a _____ (adverb) line, we noticed a _____ (noun) rush past us, muttering _____ (famous quote). We were curious, so we followed this stranger out the door and around the corner into the alley, where we discovered a _____ (noun) sitting on an oversized _____ (noun), and _____ (-ing verb) a _____ (noun).

We were _____ (-ed verb) at first so we didn't notice the group of _____ (plural noun) sitting around a _____ (adjective) table, sipping tea. "_____ (exclamation)," yelled the _____ (noun) sitting at the head of the table. "You must sit down and join us for tea, at once!"

The guests around the table looked a little _____ (adjective), but we thought, "why not?" We were hungry and tired and the _____ (noun) looked _____ (adjective). We sat down and poured ourselves a cup of _____ (beverage) and ate the _____ (noun), oblivious to what was happening around us.

All of a sudden, we felt like we were _____ (-ing verb), and soon we were only two inches tall. Scared, we dropped our _____ (noun) and jumped off the chairs and started running. We ran and ran for what seemed like miles.

As we were running, I turned my head and ran smack into a _____ (noun), then tripped over a _____ (noun) and landed on my _____ (noun). As I was rubbing my head, trying to figure out where I was, a white rabbit scurried over to me and said "_____ (famous quote). Let's go!"

Like the Queen of Hearts, you can host a real tea party with your friends and serve tarts. Look for a tart recipe in a cookbook or online.

RIF Reading Is Fundamental

Visit www.rif.org/readingplanet for more reading fun!

© 2006 READING IS FUNDAMENTAL, INC.