

August 2018

The last month of summer is here. It's time to think about what books you want to read before summer ends. Visit your library today and check them out. Then try out the puzzle creator and make puzzles to go along with some of the books you've borrowed. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/puzzle-creator

August 2, 2018

You are the superhero! What would your special power be? Create a comic strip about something that happened to you this summer. You can embellish the story by adding some fictional details and elements so it's fit for a superhero like you! If you need some inspiration, be sure to check out Flora & Ulysses: The Illuminated Adventures by Kate DiCamillo. This story is written in comic book style and gives "normal" characters superpowers! Don't forget to check out the games that go along with the book!

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/flora-ulysses-illuminated-adventures

August 3, 2018

National Watermelon Day Enjoy a slice of the juicy fruit today. Estimate how many seeds are in your melon, then count to find out. Then read the book Plants We Eat by Christine Petersen, to find more about the plants we eat and if a watermelon seed could really grow in your belly. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/plants-we-eat

August 4, 2018

National Clown Day

Celebrate National Clown Day by dressing up like a clown. Then put on a show with silly skits and your best jokes. If you need some new jokes, visit your library and check out the book More Laugh-Out-Loud Jokes for Kids by Elliott and Rob. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/more-laugh-out-loud-jokes-kids

Wednesday

Thursday

Friday

Saturday

August 5, 2018

Reading to younger kids is a great way to bond with them and inspire them to become a reader too! Try getting them involved in reading the story by asking them questions about the pictures. Check out the View Resources button for some great suggestions of fun animal books to read with younger kids. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?

 $field_themes=All&type=All&f\%5B0\%5D=supported_grades\%3A243&f\%5B1\%5D=supported_grades\%3A71&f\%5B2\%5D=field_genres\%3A2249$

August 6, 2018

Monday

Tuesday

National Fresh Breath Day

Practice makes perfect and a few new tips can help too. It's no secret that brushing your teeth helps keep your breath fresh. Visit the library and read the book The Tooth Book: A Guide To Healthy Teeth And Gums by Edward Miller to learn helpful tips to get fresh breath! Then check out the games that go along with this book.

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/tooth-book-guide-healthy-teeth-and-gums

August 7, 2018

Write a letter to friend or relative that lives far away. Tell them how your summer has been. If you can't think of anyone, you could try writing a letter to a celebrity! In the book Dear Hank William by Holt and Kimberly Willis, Kate wrote to her favorite country music singer. Check out this book at your local library and try out some fun games that go with the book by clicking View Resources. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/dear-hank-williams

August 8, 2018

Wednesday

International Cat Day

Cats make great pets! Celebrate cats on International Cat day by helping at a shelter and reading your favorite cat book. If you need a fun book suggestion, try Romeow & Drooliet by Nina Laden. You can watch a read aloud of the book and try some fun activities in the Teacher Guide. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/romeow-drooliet

Sunday

August 9, 2018

Book Lovers Day

Celebrate your love of reading by picking up some new books at the library and reading! If you need a book suggestion try, The Boy Who Loved Words by Roni Schotter. The main character in the story loves words and realizes that writing poems is a great way to share the words he loves. Don't forget to try out the fun activities and games about the book! You'll love this story and get to learn some cool new words too! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/boy-who-loved-words

August 10, 2018

Friday

Thursday

National S'mores Day

Write out specific directions for making s'mores then try and follow them. Did you leave anything out? Can you think of a way to make the recipe better or give it your own twist? Chocolate is a main ingredient in this tasty treat. Be careful not to eat too much or you could end up like Henry in Chocolate Fever by Robert Kimmel Smith.

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/chocolate-fever

August 11, 2018

Choose at least one new genre to read this month. Will it be a biography, science fiction or fantasy? Interested in a biography? Try Rachel Carson and Her Book That Changed the World by Laurie Lawlor. This award winning story tells how Rachel Carson's book created an environmental movement! Then check out the games and activities that go with the book and might inspire you to get involved in helping the environment! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/rachel-carson-and-her-book-changed-world

August 12, 2018

Sunday

Make a prediction about today's weather. Don't forget to look for clues in the clouds! Check out the book Clouds by Anne Rockwell. You'll learn how to identify types of clouds and the type of weather that is associated with them.
https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/clouds

Saturday

August 13, 2018

International Left Handers Day!

Left Handers are people who use their left hand to write. They face unique challenges living in a right handed world. Celebrate someone you know who is left handed. If you are left handed, celebrate yourself! Then stick with the left handed theme and check out this book, Left Handed Fate by Milford and Kate. It's about a famous privateer ship and it's mission to end a war. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/left-handed-fate

August 14, 2018

In 2003, the Northeast US went dark. Read Blackout by John Rocco. What would you do if the power failed? https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/blackout

August 15, 2018

If you aren't back in school yet, you will be soon! Set a reading goal for yourself for each day, week and the year. "The more you read, the more you know.
 The more you know, the smarter you grow. The smarter you grow, the stronger your voice, when speaking your mind or making your choice." — National Library Week. Also, check out the resources for the book More Than Anything Else by Marie Bradby. The story is about a boy and his desire to learn to read and the power he finds within the words.

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/more-anything-else

August 16, 2018

Thursday

National Tell a Joke Day

Today is the day to laugh out loud! Visit your library to brush up on the latest jokes. Tell the jokes to family and friends and see how long you can keep them laughing! If you need a book recommendation, try Clifford's Riddles by Norman Bridwell. Then try some of the activities and games that go along with the book.

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/cliffords-riddles

Tuesday

Monday

Wednesday

August 17, 2018

Many of the movies you've seen are based off a book. Try reading a book then seeing the movie. Which did you like better? Check out the View Resources button to see some trailers for movies that were made after a book. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?query=movie&f%5B0%5D=field_support_type%3A935 August 18, 2018 Saturday World Honeybee Day Celebrate the important role honeybees have in our world. Read the book, The Honeybee Man by Lela Nargi. Then try the Bee Hive Builders handout to learn how to make your own bee hive. Don't forget to check out the games and other fun activities that go along with the book! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/honeybee-man August 19, 2018 Sunday Photography Day Use your artist skills and create a book with only images, like the book Flotsam by David Wiesner. View the trailer and games that go along with the book they help inspire your story in images. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/flotsam

Friday

Monday

August 20, 2018

National Radio Day

Visit your library and read about Nikola Tesla, the inventor of the radio. Look for the book, Electrical Wizard: How Nikola Tesla Lit Up the World by Elizabeth Rusch, to see the many inventions he created that have changed our world. Then make sure you try the games, activities and guides to take your learning about Tesla and the radio even further!

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/electrical-wizard-how-nikola-tesla-lit-world

August 21, 2018

Hawaii became the 50th state on this day in 1959. Celebrate this big day in Hawaii's history by reading and learning about volcanoes. The islands of Hawaii were created by volcanoes long ago. Check out the book Volcano Rising by Elizabeth Rusch at your local library. Then check out the cool STEM activities and games that support the book.

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/volcano-rising

August 22, 2018

Wednesday

National Tooth Fairy Day

Losing teeth is something that happens to humans and animals! Thankfully the tooth fairy takes care of the old teeth that have been lost and are no longer needed. How many teeth do you have right now? Find out how Clifford the Big Red dog handles loosing a tooth. Visit your library and read the book, Clifford's Loose Tooth by Wendy Cheyette Lewison and Norman Bridwell. Then try some fun games that support the book. https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/cliffords-loose-tooth

August 23, 2018

Check out some of the awesome books written by Melvin Berger. This is a great way to honor the author and celebrate his birthday. Check out all the resources that go with each of his books too! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?guery=Berger

August 24, 2018

Friday

Become an illustrator and draw a picture of what's happening in the book you are currently reading. If you need a book recommendation, try Charlotte's Web by E. B. Webb. The author uses great imagery making it easy for you to create a beautiful and detailed picture. You can also learn how to be a good friend with various activities and play games that relate to the book by checking out the resources! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/charlottes-web

Tuesday

Thursday

August 25, 2018

If you can't visit a local science center, try reading some fun science books! No one has more fun with Science than Miss Frizzle. Check out the collection of The Magic School Bus books by Joanna Cole and go on an exciting science filled field trip without leaving home! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?query=the+magic+school+bus

August 26, 2018

National Dog Day

Celebrate National Dog day by spending some quality time with your dog. If you don't have a dog, you can spend time reading to a stuffed dog friend! Reading out loud will help your fluency and build your confidence in reading and spending time with a friend always makes reading more fun. Check out this collection of stories that feature our four legged man's best friend, the dog!

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?query=Dogs

August 27, 2018

Invite a friend, or even a new student at school over to your house to read together. The book, One of Us by Peggy Moss, is a great back to school story about a new girl who is trying to figure out where she fits in. Then with your friend, try making an origami butterfly! Look for the directions in the resource guides.

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/one-us

August 28, 2018

Allen Say is known for incorporating elements of Japan, where he was born, into his stories. Click on the View Resources button to see a some of his books, games that support his books, guides for teachers and parents with suggestions for activities and even an interview with Allen! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?query=allen+say

August 29, 2018

Wednesday

Sometimes traveling around the world isn't an option, but you can always take a book trip! Where would you like to go? Need a suggestion, visit Cuba in All the Way to Havana by Margarita Engle. Try the fun games and activities that go along with the book too! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/all-way-havana

Saturday

Sunday

Monday

Tuesday

August 30, 2018

If you need a fun suggestion, try a book by Dianna Hutts Aston! She writes informational texts about nature. Try some of the fun activities and games that go along with her books too!

https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/search?query=Dianna%20Hutts%20Aston&f%5B0%5D=supported_grades%3A71

August 31, 2018

Friday

Thursday

National Eat Outside Day

It's the last day of August! Celebrate National Eat Outside Day by trying to eat all of your meals outside. Grab your favorite book and while your munching on your meals, your mind can consume some good stories too! Don't actually eat your books, or you'll end up like Henry in The Incredible Book Eating Boy by Oliver Jeffers. Click on the View Resources button to learn how to make your own pop-up for the book! https://www.rif.org/literacy-central/book/incredible-book-eating-boy