

Grant Partnerships

Reading Is Fundamental (RIF) would be delighted to partner with you on your grant proposal. If you are looking to identify literacy programming, services or resources as part of a grant application your organization is preparing, RIF would be happy to work with you. Below, we have detailed some of the ways we can collaborate, and our team is available to assist with any questions or discuss additional partnership opportunities. Please feel free to contact us at LiteracyNetwork@rif.org.

BOOKS FOR OWNERSHIP

Focusing on access and choice, children in communities throughout the country participate in RIF's flagship program, Books for Ownership, selecting new, age-appropriate books to take home and own through two annual events focused on increasing motivation and engagement around reading.

Budget: $3 per book plus additional distribution event costs

READ FOR SUCCESS

This innovative reading intervention program addresses the literacy backslide that traditionally happens during the summer months by providing access to high-quality classroom book collections, summer books for students to choose and own, enriching STEAM-themed classroom activities, professional development for teachers, and parent engagement resources.

Budget: $50+ per student depending on the programmatic options you select

BOOK FUND

Schools, districts, community groups and other youth-serving entities can purchase high-quality, affordable books for the kids you serve. Whether you are looking for books for giveaway prizes, lending libraries or to build home libraries, RIF's Book Fund can provide the titles you need!

Budget: $3 per book

LITERACY CENTRAL

An online destination for teachers, parents, and literacy volunteers to get thousands of free digital resources tied directly to the books children love and teachers turn to everyday. The portal provides tools to easily organize and keep reading resources in one place with customizable book lists, printable lesson plans, activities, games, reading passages, calendars, and videos.

Budget: Free integrated support for the books offered in RIF's programming
