Where is the dog from? Where does soon. The dog comes every day.
and then leaves.
the same thing again. He takes a nap.
The dog comes the next day. He does door. The dog goes out.
"Quick," asks Mom. Mom opens the front door.
The dog wakes up and goes to the Mom writes a note. Mom puts it on the dog.

Who owns this dog? This dog comes over every day. The dog takes a nap.
Then the dog goes away.

The dog comes the next day. The dog has a note.

This dog is our dog. He lives in our home with our six children. Our home is very loud and busy. Our dog wants a "quiet place" for a nap. Can I come with our dog tomorrow? I need quiet place and a nap, too.

The Sleepy Dog Mystery

Mom works in the garden. Dad helps
Mom. The kids play ball.
"Stop!" says Mom.
They stop. They see a dog. He is licking Mom's ear.
"Whose dog is this?" asks Dad.
Mom shrugs. She does not know.

He sleeps for hours.
and takes a nap. They let the dog sleep.
The dog goes, too. The dog lies down.
Time for lunch. The family goes inside.
to eat.

No dog. He must have a home and food.
"No," says Dad. "Do you see a dog?"
"Can we keep him?" ask the kids.

2017 Reading Is Fundamental • Content and art created by Simone Bose
The family lets the dog sleep. "Does he think he lives here?" asks Dad. "I take a nap," trots over to the sofa. He lies down and lunch. The dog follows them inside. The family goes inside when it is time for home. I'm sure the girls took "But he is healthy, I'm sure he has a 'I don't know,' says Mom. "Check his collar," says Dad.

The dog wakes up a few hours later. He goes to the door and chews. The family leaves the house. Where does he go? Where does he come from? Where does he go? The yellow dog comes every day.

naps for a few hours. Then he leaves. The dog follows Mom into the house. The next day, the same thing happens. Trots out.

she opens the door for him. The door "Do you want to go out?" asks Mom. "I don't know," says Mom.

Mom writes a note. She pins it to the dog's collar.

Who owns this nice dog? He comes to our house every day. He takes a nap for a few hours. Then he leaves.

The dog comes the next day. He has a new note pinned to his collar.

This dog lives in a home with six children. It is very noisy and busy. He is looking for a "quiet place" to sleep. Can I come with him tomorrow?

It is a lazy Sunday. Mom is working in the garden. Dad is helping. Hannah and Jay are playing catch.

"Hey, stop that!" says Mom. Everyone stops what they're doing and looks at Mom. A big yellow dog is busy licking Mom's ear.

"Where did he come from?" asks Dad. "Can we keep him?" ask Hannah and Jay. They really want a dog.
Soon, the yellow dog appears at their front door every day for a nap. When the woman is eager, she whines by the front door. The next day, the big yellow dog trots out. He opens the door and the dog hp. "Do you want to go out?" Mom asks up. The dog goes to the front door and chews. After a few hours, the mystery dog wakes.

Curious, Mom writes a note to the dog's owners and pins it on his collar.

Who owns this nice dog? He comes into our house every day, takes a long nap, then leaves.

When he arrives the next day, the dog wears a new note pinned to his collar.

This dog lives in a home with six children. It is very noisy and busy. He is looking for a "quiet place" to sleep. I would like a nice, quiet place to sleep, too. Can I come with him tomorrow?

The family lets the strange dog sleep. "Does he think he lives here?" asks Dad.

"I take a nap. It's over to the sofa, and cult up to geese inside. The dog follows them in."

When it is time for lunch, the family someone. "Sure, it belongs to me. It can tell that he's healthy and..."

"If doesn't say anything," says Mom.

It is a lazy Sunday afternoon. Dad helps Mom in the garden while Hannah and Jay play catch nearby.

"Hey, stop that!" giggles Mom. Everyone stops what they're doing and looks at Mom. A big yellow dog is busy licking Mom's ear.

"Where did he come from?" asks Dad.

"Can we keep him?" beg Hannah and Jay.

"I have no clue where he's from," says Mom. "And no, we can't keep him."

"Check his collar," suggests Dad.