

A postcard is a great way to show others how much fun you are having while visiting a new location! After reading about the exciting things you can do (or have done) at summer camp, create a postcard for a family member or friend describing your experience.

On one side of the postcard, draw a picture of your favorite part about camp or even just being outside. On the lined side of the postcard, write at least two things you learned from the books you have read at RIF's summer reading camp.

A large empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for drawing a picture of a favorite part of camp or being outside.
