The Cover: Ask students to make a prediction about the story based on the cover and title.

The Pictures: Take a quick picture walk and ask students what they notice about what Jane likes.

Prior Knowledge: Ask, “What does it mean to be curious? Can you share a time when you wanted to learn more about something because you were curious?” Explain to students that this story is about real events, but it is told like a story with characters, a setting, and events in order.

Vocabulary: Frontload Tier 2 words using the accompanying Vocabulary Guide.

Purpose for Reading: “As we read, let’s pay attention to how Jane’s curiosity as a child led to her becoming a scientist.”

DURING READING

Check for understanding & make connections:

- What was Jane like as a child?
- Jane asks lots of questions about the world around her. What kinds of questions do you like to ask?
- How does Jane feel about animals? Why?

AFTER READING

Our Purpose: “How did Jane’s curiosity as a child help her become a scientist?”

Extending Our Thinking: Ask students, “What is something you love to do now? How might you keep doing it when you grow up?” Make a chart with two columns: What We Love Now and How We Could Use It in the Future. Then, connect Jane’s childhood interest in animals to her work as a scientist and allow students to reflect on their own interests and imagine future possibilities.
