

STEP INSIDE THE STORY

Imagine you can jump inside a book you've read. Choose the book and where you are in the story. Pretend you are a character and write a new scene that is not in the book. Describe what you do, what you say, and how your actions change what happens. Draw a picture at the bottom of the page to show your scene.

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for drawing a picture to show the scene described in the writing.
