

Where's Waldo?

Author: Martin Handford

Illustrator: Martin Handford

Themes: Adventure and Travel; Observation and attention to detail; Patience and Persistence

Book Brief: Waldo hikes around the world, sending letters about the strange sights he sees along the way. On every spread, students search crowded scenes for Waldo, his friends, and hidden objects.

READ ALOUD

Before Reading: Build Background

- This is a search-and-find book where we are looking for Waldo in every busy scene. Point Waldo out on the cover.
- Read Waldo's letter together before you start. He tells you what he packed and what to look for.

While Reading: Make Connections

- Have your child hunt for the funny sights Waldo describes.
- When your child finds Waldo, ask how they knew it was him.

After Reading: Ask Questions

- Ask your child which scene was the silliest and which was hardest to search.

RELATED ACTIVITIES

If your child enjoyed this book:

- Make your own search page: Have your child draw a crowded scene and hide one small object. Then the family searches for it.

Let them explore more search-and-find titles:

- I Spy A Dinosaur's Eye (2003)
- I Spy A Penguin (2005)